Provided that a holder shall be permitted to reserve a portion of the hereditary estate, being of such area as may be determined by regulation, for the sole use of himself and his successors in title.
- (2) Before making a grant of a tax allotment out of an hereditary estate the Minister shall consult the holder thereof and hear any objections he may make to the grant being made and where the Minister and the holder of the hereditary estate fail to agree, the Minister shall nevertheless grant the land as a tax allotment but such grant shall within 3 months of the making thereof be liable to review by the Court, the decision of which on the matter shall be final.

35 Holder may refuse permission to reside.

- (1) Nothing contained in section 34 hereof shall be deemed or construed as prohibiting any holder of an hereditary estate from refusing permission to take up residence on his hereditary estate to any person who belongs to another locality or holds a tax allotment elsewhere even though the wife of such person belongs to a village upon such holder's estate.
- (2) Any such person coming to reside on an estate may be ordered in writing by the holder to leave, and if that person refuses or fails to obey such order within 7 days he shall be liable on conviction therefore to a fine not exceeding $4 and in default of payment to imprisonment for any period not exceeding one month.

- (1) Upon the death of a holder of an hereditary estate or upon a conviction of an indictable offence or upon his being certified as insane or imbecile by a medical officer, His Majesty shall cause the name of the lawful successor to the title of such holder to be published in the Gazette together with the date of his succession thereto which shall be the day following that on which the death of the holder took place or on which the holder was convicted of an indictable offence or was certified by a medical officer as insane or imbecile. (Amended by Act 45 of 1988.)
- (2) On a convenient day not more than 6 months after the date of such publication, or, where the lawful successor is on such date a minor, 6 months after the day he attains the age of 21 years, His Majesty shall summon the person so named to appear before him in the Privy Council and there to take the oath of allegiance set out in Schedule VII.
- (3) The clerk of the Privy Council shall keep a roll of all persons holding hereditary estates.

39 Date succession operates.

The successor to the title if he has attained the age of 21 years shall as from the date of succession published in the Gazette possess and enjoy the hereditary estate appurtenant to the title to which he has succeeded together with the rents and profits thereof and all other rights and privileges attached to the title.

40 Appointment, remuneration and accounts of trustees.

- (1) Whenever upon the death of a holder of an hereditary estate or upon his being convicted of an indictable offence or being duly certified as insane or imbecile his lawful successor has not attained the age of 21 years His Majesty shall appoint one or more fit and proper persons to act as trustees for such successor during his minority for the purpose of protecting, preserving and managing the hereditary estate appurtenant to the title to which he has succeeded and of applying for his maintenance and benefit all moneys or profits arising from such estate including the salary attached to the title and ill moneys arising from the sale or hire of live stock or from the sale of copra or other produce until such time as the successor attains the age of 21 years. (Amended by Act 46 of 1988.)

- (4) His Majesty may dismiss any trustee who is guilty of mismanagement, breach of trust, or fraud in connection with his trusteeship and appoint another trustee in his stead.

41 Rules of succession.

Upon the death of a holder of an hereditary estate the succession to the estate shall be as follows—

- (a) only persons born in wedlock may inherit;

Explanation

Provided marriage precedes the birth of a child such child is legitimate and capable of succeeding no matter how short the interval between the parents' marriage and its birth.

- (b) no person shall be entitled to succeed who is insane, or has since the granting of the Constitution been convicted of an indictable offence;

- (c) the inheritance shall descend in the first place to the issue of the deceased holder in infinitum;
- (d) the male issue shall be preferred to female issue of the same degree;

Examples

On the death of a holder leaving a son and a daughter, the son is entitled to succeed.

On the death of a holder leaving a grand-daughter and grand-son, children of the same parents, the grand-son will succeed.

- (e) as between issue of the same degree of relationship to the deceased holder the eldest shall inherit;

Examples

On the death of a holder leaving three sons the eldest will succeed. Similarly in the case of a holder dying and leaving only daughters, the eldest would succeed. Again if a holder's only son predeceases him leaving three sons the eldest of such sons would succeed on the death of the holder.

- (f) all the lineal descendants of any deceased person who if he had been alive would have been entitled to succeed shall represent their ancestor, that is, they shall have the same right to succeed as such person would have had if still living:

Provided always that no female and no male descendant claiming through a female shall be entitled to succeed by right of representation so long as any heir male of the body of the deceased holder survives;

Examples

A the holder dies leaving a son B, a daughter C and a grand-son E (child of A's eldest son D deceased). Under rules (d) and (e) D, if alive, would have succeeded in preference to C or B and as under this rule E stands in the same place as his father D if still living would have done, E will succeed in preference to C or B.

W a holder dies leaving a daughter X and a grand-daughter Z (child of W's deceased son Y). Under rule (d) Y, if alive, would have succeeded in preference to his sister X and as there are no heirs male of the deceased older surviving Z will under this rule be entitled to stand in the same place as her father Y would have done and will therefore succeed.

A a holder dies leaving a daughter B and two grand-children viz. C the daughter of A's eldest son and D a son of A's youngest son. In this case although A's eldest son if alive would have succeeded before B or D, C the daughter of the eldest son will not so succeed as representing her father because she is a female descendant of the deceased holder and there is a male heir of the body of the holder still living namely D, D will therefore succeed. In the case last mentioned had C predeceased A leaving a son surviving her, D would still succeed in preference to such son, for D is an heir male of the body of the deceased holder while C's son although also a descendant of the deceased holder, claims through a female, viz. his mother C.

- (g) on failure of lineal descendants of the deceased holder, the inheritance shall descend to his brothers and sisters and their issue subject to rule (d) and (e) and all lineal descendants of any deceased brother or sister who, if he or she had been living would have been entitled to succeed, shall have the same right to succeed as their ancestor would have had if still living:

Provided always that no female descendant of a brother and no male descendant of a brother claiming through a female shall be entitled to succeed by representation so long as any heir male of the body of any deceased brother survives;

- (h) if upon the death, insanity or conviction for an indictable offence of any holder there is no heir to succeed to the title and estates, the estates shall revert to the Crown and shall be dealt with as Crown Lands until such time as the King grants the title of honour when such estates shall be granted to the holder of the title.

(Amended by Act 46 of 1988.)

42 Application.

Nothing in this part of this Act shall apply to any person who is not of Tongan nationality. (Added by Act 13 of 1936.)

(Added by Act 13 of 1949.)
